

Social Care Institute for Excellence

Collaborating and innovating in social care to improve lives

scie Consultancy

Your not-for-profit partner, working with you to identify and implement improvements

scie Insights

Research, evidence and policy insights to drive improvements and innovation, and influence national policy and practice

scie Training

Bespoke online or face-to-face learning and development including:

- safeguarding
- co-production
- strengths-based approaches

scie Resources

Guidance and tools to support best practice, co-production and innovation

As SCIE is not-for-profit, our consultancy services offer exceptional value for money, and our income goes towards improving social care. Our team, comprising former social workers, social care practitioners, local authority professionals, researchers and training experts, bring an immense passion and shared commitment to the cause. We offer customised solutions that improve quality, safety and outcomes in social care.

Our consultancy work includes local improvement and helping organisations that are operating in difficult circumstances. This involves working with teams across local government, care, health and housing, to identify and embed new ways of working.

In safeguarding, we offer analysis and improvement work to support organisations and partnerships to gain an independent view of their safeguarding systems and processes, covering audits, service and case reviews. We also help you learn from safeguarding incidents and assess current practice across both children's and adult's safguarding.

> [SCIE] bring us expertise of a wide range of partners including people with lived experience. When I was talking to [SCIE] it was like I was speaking to all the people they had spoken to."
>
> Policy maker

> SCIE are always a pleaure to work with – really supportive, flexible and adaptable."
>
> Director of Adult Social Care, London Borough

> As genuine experts in social care, SCIE bring strategic expertise and knowledge to help with the challenges organisations are facing... Their breadth of customers and convening power enable them to support in a wide range of ways. They have the ability to engage with all the issues, while focusing on the end-user at all times."
>
> Director of Adult Social Services

SCIE's offer covers a wide range of areas from digital innovation to pathway redesign to CQC support.

Contact consultancy@scie.org.uk to find out how we can help

www.scie.org.uk