WELCOME TO OSPREY

Osprey has been providing the multi-mode services and specialist logistics to move some of the world's most challenging critical infrastructure for 25 years.

Every day, Osprey's engineers and operators are collaborating with our partners on things like making rail and road-bridge installation more feasible, while reducing associated disruption to communities and commuters. Or organising safe transportation for some of the world's biggest wind-turbines – inching their way through the villages they'll power, once installed.

Working with partners like EDF, GE Renewables and Technip, Osprey enables turnkey efficiency for the widest range of industries and delivers scalable solutions for partners who are moving to modular construction.

We thrive by demonstrating core family values in everything we do. We've grown organically too, as has the breadth of our expertise and a huge inventory of specialist logistics' transport and equipment.

People depend on us to find ever-more ingenious ways of providing the safest, most efficient transit and installation of critical infrastructure, and our promise is that we'll deliver unexpected value on every project and in every relationship.
