Revolutionising Access

Are you happy with the standard of service you're receiving from your floating access provider? If you think it's time for a change we'd really like to hear from you. With over 20 years of experience we confidently deliver the safest access across all bodies of water.

Inspections

Developing a schedule for multiple bridge inspections saves time and money. Using pontoons with workboats or outboards fixed directly to the unit is an efficient method of navigating between bridges, providing safe transport for engineers and materials. This simple floating access is supported by full stability documents.

Remedial Works

Works on a road bridge over a tidal estuary required a number of floating solutions. For over four years Pontoonworks provided full marine access for a client with mobile material transport barges, static and moveable working platforms, floating welfare and offshore mooring points. The entire operation was supported by manned safety boats throughout the works.

Structural

Pontoonworks deliver access solutions over any body of water for monitoring, geotechnical surveys, pumping, vegetation clearance and habitat management throughout the year. Different anchoring systems are used for water courses where the levels fluctuate, always providing a safe working platform.

Rivers

Utility pipes over watercourses are often in remote locations. Pontoon provides access and acts as fall arrest for debris and personnel. A simple working platform moored to shore spanning the river will expand a difficult to access worksite safely without damage to the environment.

Setting the standards

Pontoonworks has an ongoing commitment to excellence in health and safety. Our installers have CSCS skilled worker accreditation and we are Constructionline Gold Members. To support our work we produce a unique stability engineered report, as standard in all our Works Package Plans, reassuring clients that they receive the safest access solutions.
