

We're PPL, the UK's leading social enterprise management consultancy. We work in partnership with councils, communities and system partners to respond to some of the biggest challenges facing the sector, helping turn ambition into practical change.

We work across:

- Health, Care & Place
- Housing, Homelessness & Temporary Accommodation
- Supported Housing & Independent Living
- SEND & Inclusion

www.ppl.org.uk

PPL

Strategic Leadership of Place

For more than two decades we have helped develop Place-based partnerships with residents and communities at their heart. For example:

- Working with Local Authorities and ICBs across six South West London Places: developing integrated processes, relationships and joint funding to better support complex needs.
- Supporting the National Neighbourhood Health Implementation Programme: 43 Places developing integrated Neighbourhood models for people with long-term conditions and rising risks.
- Working with seven Places in Cheshire and Merseyside: developing a shared vision for Place-based working, supporting the shift to a system-wide preventative approach.

Modelling pathways to support independence

We're helping redesign adult social care around prevention, independence and financial sustainability in Sutton. Our work combines pathway analysis, strategic commissioning and market management to support better decisions and long-term demand management.

Read more:

Forecasting Temporary Accommodation demand

PPL has the UK's leading Temporary Accommodation forecasting model, now deployed across multiple councils and being scaled into a pan-London model with London Councils to support strategic planning and financial sustainability.

Read more:

Shaping the future of Supported Housing

From national fee rate frameworks to local supported housing strategies, we're helping Councils build sustainable housing markets that promote independence, strengthen prevention and deliver better value for public money.

Read more:

There can be no 'Neighbourhood Health' without local government

In this article for the Local Government Association, PPL Senior Advisor Sean Harriss explores why neighbourhood health will only succeed if councils play a central leadership role in shaping place-based reform.

Read more:

Looking for insights and practical guidance on neighbourhood health?

Sign up for our e-newsletter to receive insights, reports, resources and guidance from our Place based work across the country.

Subscribe here:

PPL